Photo: Gary Benson

In this election year, Linda Allen remembers Ynez Milholland and the many other courageous women who for many decades fought one of our country's most important human rights struggles: The battle for the right to vote for women. Listen to songs and stories remembering their struggle.

Special Additional Event: Screening of Inez Milholland: Forward Into Light. This short documentary tells the story of the remarkable woman who became the voice of Suffrage....and its best-known martyr.

Linda Allen's music has enriched my life. The sheer beauty of her songs, the deeply moving lyrics, and the sweet quality and range of her voice, all combine to open the heart. They make a person more grateful to be alive.

Linda Allen is a peoples' musician. People like her keep that idea from becoming a relic of the past. Linda hears a story, reads a headline, observes a confrontation, senses a broken heart and then turns it into song. When we hear it back, we are invited to stay human.

A true and delightful artist who poetically tells it all.
